A SENSE OF COMMON DANGER

The rosy dream of continental solidarity for the Americas, which is the thought behind Pan American day, is probably closer to coming true now than ever before.

To be sure, there are politicians in North and South America whose stock-in-trade is breeding distrust between the various sovereignties of the new world. As the strongest single nation, the United States will be viewed with suspicion by some of its smaller neighbors. The new world, like the old one, will be fertile ground for jealousies and hatreds and conspiracies.

But in the very sound of the phrase "new world" there is a hint of hope. This is a new world, a world peopled by the offspring of men who came to it because they thought it would be a better world. If there is one thing on which North and South Americans can agree, it is on their desire to remain politically independent of the old world. The rise of a strong warlike nation committed to conquest has given the new world a sense of common danger.

It has been no secret at any time that Communism, Nazism, Fascism all were to be used by political medicine men of the old world to soften up North and South America for revolution and exploitation from abroad. But until the rise of Germany, the danger was theoretical; something to be argued about academically. It is not theoretical now. It is actual. There at last is a nation strong enough to do what Russia once hoped to be able to do.

If Pan American day in 1941 hasn't brought the nations of North and South America to full realization of the necessity for sticking together, it may never come to pass. Every crushed national minority in Europe bears testimony to the folly of trusting the governments that have gone on the prowl for loot.

BROAD FULCRUM

Reopening of the Red sea and Gulf of Aden to American shipping, following announcement that Germany was to become a defense base, reveals the direction of United States policy in relation to Germany's counter-blockade of Great Britain. It is toward constantly more effectual resistance to the counter-blockade.

President Roosevelt has developed the policy within the general terms of a mandate, requested in last year's presidential election, to aid Great Britain by all steps short of war, on the assumption that such aid is essential to the defense of the United States.

This is a broad fulcrum by which to exert the influence of the United States. Already it has moved the possibility of an open declaration of war against this country measurably closer. In the capital and in the country at large there would be no surprise if Italy were to be used as a puppet by Germany to precipitate actual belligerency.

Supplies sent via the Cape of Good Hope, the Gulf of Aden and the Red sea to Suez for transshipment from Egypt to Great Britain and its allies in the Mediterranean area, like supplies sent via Greenland to the United Kingdom, are expected to have vital bearing on the outcome of the war. Like the opening of American ports to British warships for repairs, they constitute as close to an act of belligerency as is conceivable, short of actual warfare.

This should be—and is—clearly understood. If there ever was any uncertainty on the point of how far the United States may go under the policy that defense calls for Germany's defeat, it should be dissolved by this time. Anything that promises to be hurtful to Germany's hope of a quick and sweeping conquest can be justified by such a policy. If it is America's purpose to prevent a German victory by all means possible, it is difficult to see what means can be called impossible.

THE SECRET THAT WASN'T SECRET

It is now a widely known fact that a damaged British battleship, the Malaya, arrived in New York harbor April 6 for repairs. Thousands of persons saw the ship arrive, flying the Union Jack. Thousands saw members of its crew, wearing the ship's name on their hats, enjoying shore leave.

Yet, because certain newspapers in New York published information about something any interested party could see with his own eyes, Secretary of Navy Knox has rebuked them. At the same time, he has praised other newspapers that withheld the same information. He did this publicly, thereby reminding readers of these same newspapers that information already given to readers of papers that did not accede to his request not to publish information of movements of British warships in American waters was not given to them.

The whole case has proved confusing, not only to the public but to the press. Source of the confusion is the apparent conviction on the part of the government that the press should have shrouded in secrecy something that was not done in secret. As Time magazine points out in its current issue, the Malaya was plainly visible from the window of the German consulate. Yet, for reasons not yet understood, it was supposed to remain invisible to the American public.

Newspapers are eager to cooperate with the government in any steps to secure the safety of the United States. They must continue to believe, however, that in the long run the safety of the United States will be served best by carefully avoiding anything that contributes to confusion, instead of comprehension. It is hard to see what is to be gained by trying to manufacture secrecy about things that are in plain sight.

RULE OF THUMB

The Roosevelt administration has argued a thousand times if it has argued once that depression is as great an emergency as war, to justify public spending on a wartime scale. It spent money on a scale that made most ordinary wars look like something from the bargain basement.

But now there is a war. The house ways and means committee is expected to open hearings this week on new taxes. As a rule of thumb, if the Roosevelt administration would lay down the policy that a war is as great an emergency as depression, to justify the taxation on a wartime scale, that would be poetic justice.

In short, if politicians need an excuse for these things, it's time to start the buildup. They can't stop spending, and pretty soon they'll have to start taxing.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, April 15

UNDER planetary positions of force and energy this should be a day of initiative and enterprise in which there may be a very direct attack upon new projects as well as static situations. The mind will be keyed to high purpose with quick insight as to the most dynamic methods for putting over important projects, and with personal skill and determination rather than through cooperation of others.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year in which there will be energy, purpose and resolution for pushing important matters to high goals of accomplishment. The forces and spirit of initiative will be spurred to direct and dynamic action, with the mentality quickened to grasp most progressive and effective ways and means for attaining cherished ends.

A child born on this day should be bold, audacious and ambitious, with an unconquerable and determined spirit of enterprise. This should manifest in a cultural, professional or emotional direction.

By golly, it begins to look as if America is still American. To do something daring and leave the question of right and reason to future discussion is stimulating to the common and garden variety of patriotism.

Though our President suggested forgetting the dollar mark, it doesn't seem necessary. Furthermore, the dollar mark is decorative. For example, it makes $7,000,000,000 look like something.

PLACE WHERE PAIN SEEMS TO BE

Isn't Always Trouble Seat, Says Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. There is a favorite trick of sick people which is to point to a spot where it hurts and ask—"What is under there?" As if whatever is under there must necessarily be the sole and only cause of the trouble. Experienced physicians have too often seen someone operated on for appendicitis when in truth the trouble was pneumonia away up in the chest.

But even the most intelligent patients give up the idea only under duress. In fact we have a painting made by Albrecht Durer, who must be considered intelligent, which he sent to his doctor showing himself pointing to the exact spot where he had the pain.

Weakness a Symptom

Weakness, which is next to pain the commonest symptom of the human race, is usually localized by the patient in the nervous system. But this is a very incomplete concept of so complex a symptom. There is a growing tendency among medical scientists to regard the body as a unit, as a whole rather than a collection of parts. We used to think of heart disease as a disease of the heart, and kidney disease as a disease of the kidney, and goitre as a disease of the thyroid gland. But more and more we have come to see that in most diseases the whole body is sick and it must be regarded and treated as a whole. Thus the reaction of the body which typifies this best is that general bodily feeling of weakness.

Whole Organism Affected

It is, for instance, a typical symptom of heart disease. It originates in this case in the muscles because they do not get enough blood—because the circulation is deficient. We learn then that heart disease is of no consequence so long as it is local (such as a valvular defect only), that it only becomes of moment when the heart muscle is diseased and all the blood vessels are also affected. Then the circulation is deficient in the muscles and oxygen exchange in the lungs is lowered and the entire organism is out of kilter.

In my youth we used to hear of Bright's disease, and everybody knew it was due to disease in the kidneys and in the kidneys alone.

But the present conception of kidney disease, of nephritis, is that the kidneys are diseased only as part of a general process—the eyes, are usually quite as much involved as the kidneys, every group of little capillary blood vessels being involved just as much as the capillaries in the kidney.

Even cancer, which is so often regarded as a purely local disease, may really originate from a general bodily derangement which manifests itself only at the site where the cancer begins to grow. In fact, certain cancers of the bone have proved to be due to disturbances of one group of the ductless glands, the parathyroids.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

LIVERMORE, Cal.—This city is going to have a new steel jail and for ample reasons. It was a woman prisoner who last tore out the plumbing, smashed the bed and a chair and tore the bedding to shreds. "They all do it," Chief of Police George N. Doten reported. "We merely regard it as routine now."

Inter-American Music Phase Boosts Music Week Interest

The Inter-American phase of the observance of National Music Week from May 4-11, which is to be inaugurated this year, is an outstanding factor in the steadily increasing interest in the movement, according to C. M. Tremaine, national committee secretary.

President Roosevelt, who is honorary chairman of the national committee, expresses the attitude of the United States government in the following letter to the national secretary:

"I have followed with interest and real appreciation the work carried on by your committee through the National Music week program. It has done a great deal to encourage and stimulate an ever-increasing enjoyment and understanding of music throughout the country."

Promotes Understanding
"The decision of your committee to set aside one day of National Music week as Inter-American Music day is indeed gratifying to those of us who have been so keenly interested in bringing about a deeper understanding between the people of the Americas. I believe that Inter-American Music day will make a real contribution toward this end and encourage the study of the hemisphere's rich and varied cultural heritage in the field of music. In so doing you are serving the cause and ideals of democracy throughout the Americas in these critical times."

Mr. Tremaine emphasizes that music is the one language through which people can best express and best advance their common aspirations and promote a spirit of amity; and that it has a particularly important service to perform at this time in strengthening cultural ties and friendly relations among the peoples of the Western hemisphere.

Significant of the interest which the movement has aroused is the report by the National Music week committee of the receipt of messages commending the idea of Inter-American Music week from practically every country in the western hemisphere, including Canada.

Expressions of Support
Expressions of support and interest have come also from: Secretary of State Cordell Hull; Charles A. Thomson, chief of the division of cultural relations of the department of state; Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is charged with coordinating commercial and cultural relations with the American republics in behalf of the Council of National Defense; and L. S. Rowe, director of the Pan American union.

Special messages have been received from South and Central American countries as represented by their embassies in Washington.

But while the Inter-American flavor of this year's observance will serve to heighten the general interest, local music week committees, headed by Mrs. E. E. Dyball, have not lost sight of the basic character of the event which, as in previous years, is to bring about a greater appreciation of music and to spread more widely its enjoyment among the general public.

This year the National Music week slogan is "Make Good Music Familiar Music."

According to reports reaching the national committee, the 1941 observance bids fair to be the most extensive in the 17-year-history of the movement. The national secretary attributes the trend to the fact that in times of stress to which all people are subject today, music is a revitalizing force, strengthening morale and emphasizing spiritual values.

Real Fisherman

HAMDEN, Conn.—The angler who caught the most fish in the Hamden Rod and Gun club's stocked stream on opening day didn't even have a license.

Envious club members watched a large blue heron perched on a stump overhanging the stream. About every five minutes, they said, the bird plunged its beak into the water. And every plunge was a strike.

MONTREAL—Pedestrians may cross the street wherever they feel like it, according to a judgment handed down by Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenshield. The chief justice cautioned, however, that jaywalkers should exercise greater caution than at regular crossings.

Regular Lubrication Checkups Will Reduce Expense Of Automobile Operation

WARMER WEATHER DEMANDS CHANGE

M. A. Kelly Suggests Also Survey of Battery and Cooling System

Picture in the adjoining columns of M. A. Kelly, operator of the Kelly Sohio service station at E. Pershing st. and S. Lincoln ave. Mr. Kelly is in the lubrication pit with a grease gun, and, as Kelly says: "It's one kind of gun that does not destroy."

It certainly is a fact that more repair bills are paid garages because the grease gun was not fired at the vital parts of cars with its charge of lubricant than would be paid if these parts had been bombarded at regular intervals.

Kelly calls attention to the fact that $10 or $12 will keep any car properly lubricated for a year, protecting you from repair bills that often amount to much more than this for just being careless about having the lubricating done once when it should be. He also states "often the part he gives out because of lack of lubrication causes an accident that is more serious."

Right now the crankcase oil should be changed to a summer grade, the differential and transmission lubricants should be washed out and hot weather grade added. Kelly has a special price on this needed service at this time.

Radiators should be flushed and the entire cooling system checked, batteries and ignition need going over to assure you of the best service, and all these things are less expensive now than they will be if put off.

Poultry Flocks Thrive On Salona Supply Feeds

For a number of years, poultrymen in the Salem district have been reporting outstanding results from the use of feeds purchased from the Salona Supply company on W. Pershing st.

Chick starter, broiler ration and growing mash are popular with the successful poultry producer and with the farmer who uses his own grain to cut down his feeding costs to a most profitable minimum. Elevator services of The Salona Supply Co. are available to prepare grains for feeding and for mixing with concentrates.

Master Mix 32 per cent chick concentrate is the result of a quarter of a century of experience in meeting the needs of poultry raisers. This outstanding feed, sold at Salona Supply, includes the animal and vegetable proteins, the vitamins and minerals so necessary for a completely balanced ration.

Feeds Give Results

Use of Master Mix concentrate provides ingredients not found in sufficient amounts in home grown grains. Tested ingredients of high quality are supplemented, with the Salona elevator provided a special mixing chart to check feeds with those proved highly successful by thousands of poultry raisers.

Poultry, dairy, hog and other livestock feeds sold by Salona Supply Co. are sold with the one thought in mind of producing results.

The secret of Westinghouse super-market refrigeration lies in Tru-Temp control, an exclusive feature obtainable in no other refrigerator. This method of temperature regulation within your Westinghouse refrigerator assures the steady cold that makes humidity safe regardless of outside kitchen heat.

The new Westinghouse refrigerators though different in styling, color schemes and special features, have in common the basic mechanical and construction superiority with which Westinghouse has set the pace for many years. Every Westinghouse refrigerator is a thoroughbred in the features that give efficiency economy and long life.

The secret of Westinghouse performance in the home lies in unsurpassed Westinghouse engineering backed by ceaseless, laboratory testing and the famous Westinghouse home proving programs.

SING-SING BREAK TAKES FOUR LIVES

Two Convicts Shoot Way Out of Infirmary, But Are Recaptured

(By Associated Press)

OSSINING, N. Y., April 14.—Two long-term convicts who shot their way out of the Sing Sing prison infirmary in a sensational break which cost four lives were captured a few hours later today in the woods across the Hudson river.

The two gray-clad convicts still were armed with smuggled guns with which they and a confederate, who was later slain, had broken from the prison in a battle in which a prison guard and an Ossining policeman were killed and a convict patient died of shock. The fugitive pair was cornered on the slope of Mount Hood in Palisades Interstate park.

Patrolman William Mullen, an experienced woodsman member of the park's police and one of 250 peace officers trailing them, flushed them from underbrush within a mile of the shore point from which they had fled after forcing a fisherman to ferry them across the river.

The convicts, Joseph Riordan and Charles McGale, both under sentence for robbery, appeared dazed when Patrolman Mullen stepped from behind a tree on the slope below them.

"We'll come down," one said. Other police quickly disarmed them and rushed them to Nyack, N. Y., police headquarters for questioning before taking them back across the Hudson to Sing Sing.

In their desperate short-lived bid for freedom, Riordan, McGale and John Waters, 30, the slain member of the trio, shot and killed one infirmary guard, overpowered the other, crawled several hundred yards through a tunnel leading outside the prison, and slew an Ossining policeman in a running gun fight.

GILLETTE, Wyo.—When Charles LeMaster went out on the porch to put on his overshoes, he found a muskrat curled up in one—fast asleep. "That was very unusual," said LeMaster. "It's three miles to a creek and muskrats seldom stray that far from water."

SYDNEY, Australia — Two Scots got in a dispute in a taxicab here. One was the passenger and the other was the driver. Before the dispute could be settled, it was discovered they were long separated brothers. They had not seen each other for 31 years.

Nearly three million cases of asparagus are canned annually in the U. S., census bureau records show.

SPRING IS SEASON FOR LANDSCAPING

Cope Bros., Fultz Suggest Trees and Shrubs To Beautify Home

Putting it off will never aid the beauty to your home grounds that phoning the Cope Bros. and Fultz Nursery will accomplish, and right now is the best time of the whole year to put in that phone call for a representative to come and counsel with you regarding the planting of shade trees, fruit trees and shrubbery that you will enjoy for years to come.

Most shrubbery and trees that are transplanted are three to five years old; they have been grown with the greatest of care, and it is just good common judgment to transplant them at the time of year they are dormant so they can spring to life and reestablish themselves under favorable growing conditions. Spring, right now, is the most favorable time.

Cope Bros. and Fultz, on the Depot road, have thousands of young, well-grown trees and shrubs ready to produce that wished-for effect around your home. Many varieties are not in the least expensive; in fact, a very few dollars will transform a house to a home, one that you will be proud of and the envy of those that are less fortunate. And, perhaps, of greater importance if you are looking at it in a cold dollar and cents way, a well-planned landscaping will add more dollar value to your property than its cost by several times.

Mr. Cope invites you to his nursery. He prefers that you see the shrubs and evergreens growing rather than merely pictures of the many varieties. In fact, you can pick out the very plant you wish delivered and the will arrange for the grading and transplanting. If you wish him to complete the entire program, it is suggested you arrange for this service a few days in advance.

MRS. MARGARET FARMER
Mrs. Margaret M. Farmer, about 66, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Hill, 619 W. Judson st., Youngstown.

She was born in Salem May 26, 1875. Mrs. Farmer was the daughter of Nicholas and Barbara Gieger. She was the widow of Charles A. Farmer, who died 17 years ago.

She is survived by her daughter and two grandchildren, Barbara Onnolee and Charles Spencer Hill of Youngstown, and a brother, Charles H. Gieger, of Washingtonville. She was a member of the Second Primitive Methodist church of Youngstown.

Service will be conducted at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Stark Memorial, in charge of Rev. E. P. Thomas of Swissvale, Pa., assisted by Rev. W. C. Tyrell of Youngstown.

Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. The family will receive friends at the Memorial Tuesday evening.

It's Time to Plan Summer Wardrobe

Generally speaking, a little foresight and planning, with the co-operation of the Paris Cleaners, will give you a start, at this time of the year, toward a warm-season wardrobe.

In most households the annual spring housecleaning process is underway. Wardrobes are being adjusted, cupboards and presses are being cleaned out and accumulations of clothing and household appurtenances are being weeded out.

In nearly every instance, there is something of value to be retained in the apparel line, needing only the expert touch of the Paris Cleaners to make it new, fresh and readily wearable again.

New styles and fashions, particularly in men's garments, permit a pretty wide leeway in the matter of matching. As a result, you'll find, very likely, that the Paris Cleaners will enable you to approach the summer season with an economy program lined up.

The Paris Cleaners are masters of their art. If there is any quality at all in the garment, they will be able to bring it out to best advantage.

RETREADS MAKE TIRES LIKE NEW

Martin Tire Sales Offers Guaranteed Service to Motorists

Not many of us will throw away a pair of shoes just because the soles have worn thin, because we know they can be resoled and made like new, giving just as much service as the original soles, for a fraction the cost of new shoes.

Yet this is exactly what many do when the tires on their car are worn smooth.

At the Martin Tire Sales on E. Pershing st., these smooth tire casings can be retreaded and made not only to look like new but also give just as much service as the new tire did at a cost of less than half the original tire.

Retreading, like soles shoes, can, it is true, be done with cheap materials that will not give the expected service. But at the Martin Tire Sales the very best of material is used, the workmen are experienced mechanics, and the equipment to cure the rubber compound gives the result desired.

In fact the Martin Tire Sales guarantee the wearing of these retreads just the same as the manufacturers of new tires do, and there are no strings to this guarantee. The retread must give you the service they promise or they will make good the difference. This guarantee should be proof enough that they do use the best of material and in the right way.

Roosevelt Opens Major League Season Today At Washington

YANKEES TO START PENNANT DRIVE AT NATION'S CAPITAL

Russo To Pitch Against Senators In Opener; Leonard Hurls

WASHINGTON, April 14—The nation's capital turned from gloomy thoughts of world conflict today to the opening game of the major league baseball season in which the New York Yankees and the Washington Senators get a 24-hour jump on the field.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, a veteran who has been around here since 1933, was billed to pitch out the first ball before 32,000 fans in Griffith stadium around 3 p. m. (EST.)

The weather man said it would be cloudy and warm.

Manager Joe McCarthy, trying to get his revamped Yankees back on the championship trail, named Southpaw Marius Russo as his starting pitcher. Russo won 14 and lost 8 last year. For Manager Bucky Harris and Washington it was Dutch Leonard, who won 14 and lost 19.

Priddy Has Bad Ankle

Jerry Priddy, New York second baseman and one of three highly-rated rookies up from Kansas City, was forced out of action three days ago with an ankle injury. McCarthy may have to reassign Joe Gordon to the keystone sack for a short time.

This will give Johnny Stump, also with Kansas City last year, a chance to fill in for Gordon at first. Phil Rizzuto, third of the Kansas City contingent, will be making his debut in regular big league competition at shortstop.

Joe DeMaggio, Charlie Keller, Buddy Roser, Tommy Henrich and other Yankee mainstays were ready for the campaign.

LOOK THREE YEARS AHEAD IN PLANES

Wright Field "Idea Men" Must Keep Ahead of Procession

WRIGHT FIELD, DAYTON—Experimental engineers—or "idea men"—at the army air corps' important base at Wright Field have set a goal to be "three years ahead of the procession" in the perfection of fighting aircraft.

To help bolster the air arm, research men strive constantly to complete specifications for new war planes that will surpass those of any other nation three years hence.

The "idea men" are dreamers, men with imagination and vision. Back of all this, officials admit the men must have a "stabilizing background of the vast store of technical knowledge compiled in 23 years of air corps research and experimentation."

Research Not Speedy

The army's newest models, even the "dream ships" now under construction, are not new "inventions." They are products of long years of development.

Most spectacular of the new American warplanes is the glider XB-19, huge 210-foot-winged bomber, now under construction at Santa Monica, Cal. The giant bomber, designed with an 8,900-mile range to enable it to fly to Europe and back nonstop, is an excellent example of long range planning and development.

That bomber, however, is an enlarged development of the biggest bomber the army now operates—the B-15, a 150-foot-winged, four-engine plane that holds world records for load-carrying and long-range flying.

Start From Last Model

The B-15 in turn is one step in size and development beyond the first four-motor monoplane bombers of the army, the B-17 Flying Fortress, now in production on a large scale.

The "idea men" decide what top speed may be expected, what rate of climb the ship must have, how fast it may land with safety and how much space can be required to take off and land.

They set down estimates of the range a plane should have and the "ceiling" required. They determine the load a plane may carry, including the crew size, weight of fuel, oil, equipment, bomb load and armament.

For every dollar of internal revenue collected by the federal government in 1940, state governments collected 38 cents, according to the census. In 1939, state collections were only 12 cents for each dollar of federal taxes.

Sales taxes, almost unknown 20 years ago, constituted approximately 46 percent of all state tax revenues in 1940.

M. O'NEIL KEGLERS ROLL INTO FIRST

DAYTON, April 14—Tuning up for the A. B. C. meet, Akron bowlers snared the lead in two events of the Ohio State tournament and helped shake up standings generally over the weekend.

The Class A Akron M. O'Neil team set the pace with a 3138 total while the leadoff man, Buzz Fazio, rolled into the all-events lead with 2004.

The Akron team also sent B. Bosco and C. Potter into second place in the doubles, nine pins back of R. P. Merrill and C. Carter of Columbus with 1929. Potter placed third in the all-events with 1965.

The Akron team is scheduled to roll in the American Bowling congress at St. Paul Wednesday night.

TROUT SEASON GETS UNDER WAY TUESDAY

COLUMBUS, April 14—Warning to Ohio trout: This is your last day of peace in five months—enjoy it. Tomorrow anglers will be cluttering the waters of Mad river and its tributaries in Clark, Champaign and Logan counties.

Prospects for catching the fighting trout? Good, says H. A. Rider, assistant state conservation commissioner.

The catch limit this year is six (Rainbow, Brook or Brown) and the minimum length seven inches. The season ends Sept. 15.

RIFLEMEN COMPETE IN OHIO TEAM MEET

COLUMBUS, April 14—More than 200 snafu riflemen compete next weekend for the Ohio team championships here.

The Medina Rifle club will defend the National Guard trophy, emblematic of the team title, which it won a year ago.

The Tusco Rifle club of New Philadelphia won the Class B laurels a year ago, with Mansfield's Rifle and Pistol club winning in Class C.

REDS READY, ABLE FOR INITIAL TILT WITH CARDINALS

Derringer Figured to Hurl For Champs Against St. Louis' Warneke

CINCINNATI, April 14—Maestro Bill McKechnie gave his Cincinnati Reds their final tuning up today and they're ready to harmonize on that world-champion chord when the St. Louis Cardinals come to Crosley field tomorrow.

Paul Derringer, big righthander, has been named by everyone but McKechnie as mound choice against St. Louis' Lon Warneke. Derringer, out for three weeks when he stopped a batted ball with his groin, demonstrated Thursday in beating Boston that he has recovered.

Bucky Walters' two-week shelving with a leg injury possibly contributed to a slight wildness as he beat the Detroit Tigers 16-4 yesterday, but he had stuff and also lashed out two doubles and a single.

Ernie Lombardi's injured ankle carried him from second on Jimmy Riddle's fourth inning single; and Outfielder Ival Goodman, kept from play until last week with a bad arm, broke a chain of 11 hitless trips to the plate by a pinchhit single.

"Hot Weather" Club

In binging out 20 hits, playing errorless ball and chalking up three double killings, the Reds supported their contention that they're a "hot weather" club—the mercury was just a shade under 90.

Winning their 18th victory in 32 exhibition starts, the Reds chased Schoolboy Rowe from the mound in the fifth after 11 hits.

The Reds were helped to six doubles by a ground rule resulting from the placing of 4,500 extra seats in anticipation of an opening day crowd expected to reach 35,000 if weather, forecast as "cloudy," doesn't interfere.

Easter's exhibitioner became a rout in the last half of the fourth with the score 2-2, the Reds batted around, scoring five times on four hits and two walks.

"Dizzy" Trout took over in the fifth, but the Reds' run-total continued to bounce up. Johnny Vander Meer held the Tigers scoreless in the last two frames.

While they still pay off on the recent season's games, results of 1941 competition in the "Grapefruit" league point to an American league year.

There wasn't any all-star game in the South this spring, so the only test of power lay in the two major circuits. American league clubs won 70 of these to earn a clear margin over the older loop.

The slugging New York Yankees topped the spring standing with a record of 25 victories and nine defeats. They won 10 and lost eight against National league clubs. Following them came the Washington Senators (17-7) and the St. Louis Browns (18-8). Washington lost seven of its 12 inter-league games but made up at the expense of other American league clubs. The Browns won 10 and lost seven games against National league clubs for a record that was second only to the Philadelphia Athletics' 12 wins and seven losses.

The only notable exception was recorded by the Detroit Tigers, last year's American league champs. They won four of seven inter-league games, breaking even in four games with their world-series conquerors, the Cincinnati Reds. But a dismal record against American and minor league rivals put them at the bottom of the heap with nine games won and 16 lost.

TENNIS HEADS ADD NEW REGULATION TO STOP 'TRAMPS'

U.S.L.T.A. Puts Limit On Number of Tourneys They May Enter

NEW YORK, April 14—Apparently the U. S. L. T. A. wasn't fooling when it decided to put the rollers under the tennis tramp through the new rule limiting the number of tournaments an amateur may play in each season.

Florida used to be a gold mine for the amateurs. Any player of fair ability could live like a millionaire and get enough "expenses" to enjoy the winter on the beaches.

After swimming through the southern belt the boys and girls would then move north by easy stages to tournaments at Pinehurst, Spring Lake, Southampton, Newport, Seabright, Nausau and New York.

A Gay Life They Lived

It was a gay life in the amateur days of Bill Tilden, Ellsworth Vines and the boys.

Somewhat the boys were always faultlessly dressed; they lived always at the best hotels; and they always seemed to have plenty of money; and they did all this without visible means of support.

They were the butterflies of the sport world. They emerged into the Florida sunlight in the winter and then flitted from one merry spot to another through the ensuing spring, summer, winter and fall and then were ready to start all over again.

Tourney Play Limited

But the heartless solons of the U. S. L. T. A. have put a damper on all the fun. No amateur today may play in more than a dozen or so tournaments and, horrible to relate, it begins to appear that some of our famous stars may have to go to work. Hitler himself never thought of a fate more cruel than that.

Just about this time each year, the boys—and of course, the girls—used to let it be known that they were red up with it all down Florida way and were making plans to lighten their boredom by moving up north.

But not this year. There hasn't been a peep out of any of the stars. Florida suits them just fine and they'd like to continue to live the soft life under the swaying palms.

Instead, they must pack their bags and head for home. Of course, those who haven't been playing the winter circuit, have just that many more tournaments ahead of them through the summer.

This all may seem like a cruel blow to the tennis players but Holcombe Ward, president of the U. S. L. T. A., has an answer to that. He says "It is neither desirable or necessary for an amateur to play in 25 or 30 tournaments to win the national championship."

The U. S. L. T. A. has decided that amateur tournaments are for the benefit of the many and not to provide livelihood for a few.

Kent Bowlers Take Lead

LIMA, April 14—Kent bowlers dislodged the only leaders in the next to the last weekend of firing in the Intercity tourney here. The Buckeye Novely team grabbed the lead with a 3127 score and K. Kohl and R. Caniglia of that outfit posted 1264 to pace the doubles.

Erie Plays at Lake Park

ALLIANCE, April 14—The Mid-Atlantic league's Erie (Pa.) Sailors have scheduled practice games with Canton, Youngstown and Akron during their spring training at Lake Park field here. They open the season May 1 at Zanesville.

Weekend Sports In Brief

PALO ALTO, Calif. — Cornelius Warmerdam surpasses own world polevault record with vault of 15 feet, 2 1/2 inches.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Jea Lane of Wilberforce university establishes new woman's indoor world record for 200 meters, winning national A. A. U. title in 25.1 seconds, one second under old record set by Stella Walsh.

Detroit—Boston Bruins win Stanley Cup and world professional hockey championship, beating Detroit Red Wings 3-1 for fourth straight victory in final playoff series.

NEW YORK—King Cole, Ogden Phipps' Kentucky derby candidate, wins $7,500 Paumonok handicap at Jamaica.

BOWIE, Md.—Gustave Ring's Ringle whips Mrs. E. K. Bryson's Cavalier to win $5,000 Southern Maryland handicap.

CHICAGO—Joe Platak, Chicago, wins National A. A. U. handball title for seventh straight year, whipping Stanley Hitz, Harrisburg, Pa., 21-4, 21-7.

A. B. C. FOLLOWERS EXPECT NEW HIGHS

ST. PAUL, April 14—While the 3,665 total of the leading Vogel Bros. Forest Park, Ill., is 18 pins below the mark which won the team title for the Chicago Monarchs last year at Detroit, few American Bowling congress followers expect the total to stand up when this is written to the world tenpin championships May 6.

Only two totals above the 3,000 mark were scored last year at Detroit in comparison with five here. Only about 50 per cent of the nation's better teams have performed so far in the current meet.

Cleveland bowlers set the Easter day pace when Bill Kenet and Joe Bodis scored in second berth in the doubles with a 1,313 total.

Oldest Fan to See Reds

CYNTHIANA, Ky., April 14—Health and weather permitting, 105-year-old Charles Rieckel will attend the Cincinnati Reds' opening game tomorrow. Rieckel asserts he's the nation's oldest baseball fan.

REVISITING THE COUNTRYSIDE

THE teams and tractors were busy. Scarcely a farm but showed a rectangle of freshly turned earth. Hours of labor were being reckoned in terms of work that needed doing, not in terms of 40-hour weeks.

A tourist with an eye for trends must be impressed these days, statistics to the contrary notwithstanding, by the movement back to the land. It is especially evident along all roads adjacent to population centers. Due perhaps to the failure of the press to catalogue things that take place slowly, the amount of building in the country has been given no name, endowed with no startling significance. But it is there, in plain sight. For various reasons, mostly economic, families have been doing on their own hook what someone always is talking about doing behind a brass band, i. e., they have returned to the land.

The contrast between the solid buildings of the country generation that built half a century ago and the new generation's smaller, flimsier structures probably has a social story to tell. But at the outset of the telling, perhaps it should be remembered that before the big barns and the hotel-size farmhouses there were log cabins, and before the log cabins were brush shelters.

THE soil lies the same as it always did, a bit worked out where it was used too hard, sometimes eroded, sometimes drifting back to brush. But it has possibilities never plumbed in a country so vast its deep thinkers worry lest farmers, in an excess of zeal, provide so much to eat that the appetite of the well fed won't be able to hold the pace. And of course it must be considered, too, that many who have gone back to the land are not looking for an opportunity to add their mite to the agricultural surplus. Their eyes are still on the main cash chance, which once more is a job in the factory, the mill, or at the nearest national defense project.

Here and there, rising on a pole above a building is a gadget that might be a wind vane, but is a generator for electricity to make winter evenings a little easier and provide energy for the electric pump that puts life and purpose into the inside plumbing. The real thing, of course, is the power line that marches along the roads and up the lanes, always at considerable expense but always for the worthiest of purposes. School books and daily papers are not pored over in the yellow radiance of the stuff that made Rockefeller rich, but in the certified beams of cheap electricity that eventually will be cheaper. The light of knowledge may still have trouble penetrating the brain, but it's a lot easier on the eyes these days. Perhaps electricity's greatest service to the farm, however, has been to shed light on the eternal fencing problem, solved scientifically now by stringing wire on insulators hammered into posts and turning some low voltage into the circuit. The livestock dreads the kilowatt, 'tis said, as the burnt child dreads the fire.

EXCEPT for the gadgetry of electricity, radio aerials, and the dependable cars that have put most farms within three quarters of an hour of the Center of Things, the farm looks about the same as another growing season gets under way—the same, that is, as it did when almost everybody either lived on one, or was only one step removed. The experts say there is likely to be a shortage of farm boys due to the draft, but that is not something to be seen from the highway. Nor can a casual tourist detect any of the other things that experts on agriculture ponder endlessly.

What is more likely to catch the eye is a vividly painted school bus delivering likely looking children at the end of a hard day of academic preparation for this life of toil. Or perhaps the eye is entranced by a particularly lovely bit of landscaping performed by the Master Landscaper and left that way, without even a Keep Off The Grass sign to show that it is something special. The eye's owner may think for a moment that for a chance to see that triumph a thousand times a day he would do whatever it is farm folk are supposed to object to most—even up to the extreme of loading cargo on one of the stern wheelers that ply steadily between the barnyard and the fields, putting back what hath been taken away.

THERE is going to be hunger approaching famine in Europe this year. It is preposterous. Everything about Europe lately is preposterous. There is enough land in America, if properly used, to feed the world, though that wouldn't be necessary. All that would be necessary would be to let Europe know that America stood ready to take away the murderous edge from the appetites of human animals that kill to eat.

It's just one of the vague notions that rattle in the heads of over-impressionable tourists who knock off on an April afternoon to buy a dollar's worth of anti-knock, then go buzzing over the countryside to remind themselves that ultimate reality isn't the blatherings of paranoiacs, or the death rattle of civilization in Europe, but the greenery that spreads over the earth in springtime. This greenery still will be doing business at the same old stand countless aeons after homo sapiens has gone the way of the musk ox. The ox once roamed the world but now is found as a curiosity only in desolate areas up toward the north pole.

THE STARS SAY:

For Wednesday, April 16

A DAY to be up and doing with verve, zest and initiative in whatever direction the yearnings and aspirations are most insistently centered. This is likely to be on the joys of a sentimental or emotional complexion rather than the solid or workaday, although in practical lines there may be signs of promotion, preferment, honors or other tokens from the hands of superiors or those in high places. Cultural and artistic ambitions may be gratified. In all intimate affairs be alert to peculiar angles of intrigue or duplicity.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is should be on the eve of a year of opportunity for succeeding in a progressive and productive chain of events, involving the private as well as public life. There are indications of favors, honors and promotion from those in prestige and power and also the artistic, intellectual and emotional urges may find most felicitous expression. It is a time for pushing for high goals and cherished aspirations, but keep clear of possible entanglements of a peculiar or intriguing nature.

A child born on this day should have many artistic, literary or musical talents as well as practical creative urges. It will have an engaging, amiable and lovable disposition and should attain position and happiness in its career.

WARNS OF ACCIDENTS

COLUMBUS, O., April 15.—Asserting that "the worst is yet to come" in the field of occupational accidents, Thomas P. Kearns, chief of the state division of safety and hygiene, today urged leaders of labor and industry to further the national defense program by eliminating hazard to the workers.

"Every sign of the times indicates that the safety forces of the nation have some rough sledding ahead of them," Kearns asserted in an address prepared for the opening of the three-day All Ohio Safety Congress.

"Accident levels are rising steadily and it would be folly to contend that the worst is not yet to come. We have not nearly reached the maximum in our efforts for defense production and we may just as well reconcile our minds to the thought that the sum total of accidental injuries and deaths in Ohio will probably be heavier in 1941 than it was in the preceding year."

Effectiveness of safety practices, Kearns said, was disclosed strikingly in a comparison of accident experience in 1929 and 1939.

"In 1939," he said, "with an employment figure only nine-tenths of one per cent less, major injuries were decreased 53.1 per cent and minor injuries 24.8 per cent" from 1929.

LITTLE CHATS ON PUBLIC NOTICES

By J. E. Pollard, Journalism Professor, Ohio State University

A Tale of a Pig

A strange and complicated story about a stray pig was related by the noted historian, John Fiske, in his "Beginnings of New England." This pig, it seems, was brought in 1643 to a certain Captain Keyne, of Boston, a rich man deemed to be hard and overbearing towards the poor. The captain "gave due public notice through the town crier" but no one appeared then to claim it. Later, after the Captain had killed one of his own pigs which he had kept in the same sty with the stray, "a poor woman named Sherman" came to see whether the stray was one she had lost. Since she did not recognize it she claimed that the captain had slaughtered her pig instead of his own. She brought the case before the elders of the church who ruled against her. Next she accused Keyne of theft but a jury cleared him. He then sued her for defamation and got, what, for the time, was a heavy judgment against her. Oddly, the issue became political and, to make a long story short, this in turn led to the permanent separation of the colonial legislature into two houses. Several "morsels" might be drawn from this tale. One is that 300 years and more ago, our forefathers had made the public notice an important part of their legal system. It was another 70 years before the first colonial newspaper, the Boston News-Letter, came to stay. But from the first, as they still are, public notices were an important part of the contents of the newspapers.

PHYSICIANS HAVE THEIR FADS, TOO

Patients Not Alone In Following Medical Trends

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

We all know that patients are liable to have fads. They go from one doctor to another and from one form of treatment to another, always seeking the sudden magical result, but we do not always realize that doctors are also faddy. Some people seem to think of them as austere and immovably learned.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

human beings who arrive at a conclusion after a long process of logic based upon science and are always right, but they can be just as faddy as the patients. Medical friends of mine, who believed, once upon a time, in having the appendix out for any ill, are now giving vitamins by the carload and before long I predict that they will be using small doses of selenium.

Whenever a patient gets cured by a method that is not approved of by the text book of medicine the doctors all say it was due to suggestion. But the cures they accomplish themselves are never due to suggestion—oh no, they are the real thing. A patient has his back rubbed by a back-rubber and gets cured and the doctor says the cure is due to suggestion, but if the doctor should wash out the patient's stomach and the patient gets cured there is no suggestion about that. Or if he gives him vitamin B1 and he gets well that is not due to suggestion—oh no, that is the real thing.

Real Cures Remain

What has happened to the fads of other days? What has happened to Couesism? "Every day in every way I am getting better and better." You used to say that into the mirror. Remember? Are you still doing it? If it was good then why isn't it good now? If it cured you then why won't it still cure you?

The real thing doesn't change. If you had malaria ten years ago you would get quinine for it and it would cure you. If you had malaria today you would still get quinine for it and it would still cure you. There is just as much quinine being taken for malaria now as there was ten years ago. Why isn't there just as much Couesism being practiced now as then?

Fads Come and Go

Of course it is pretty hard to answer a question like that, but there is no question that fads come and go. Unless there is an organization to keep a fad alive it dies out. Couesism had a strong organization for a while but it lost interest.

It is of course a little cruel of me to remind those of you who were once ardent Couesists that you have forgotten all about it. As a matter of fact it was a form of therapy that is recognized by the medical profession and a very sensible one. It probably did a lot of good. It would do a lot of people good now if they could convince themselves that every day in every way they were getting better and better. There are many people who need just the amount of self-assurance that cure gave them.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

L. D. N.: "I would like to know if carbonated beverages, such as pop, whistle and phosphates, are injurious to the health. I drink three or four of these bottled drinks a day."

Answer—No harm if you're healthy and if they don't make you too fat. Carbonation is good for a drink especially in hot weather; it quenches thirst faster.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Lodge Will Hold District Meeting

WASHINGTONVILLE, April 15.—A district meeting of the I. O. O. F. lodge will be held here on Monday evening, April 14, by Orion Lodge No. 390, I. O. O. F.

Following the business session entertainment will be enjoyed and lunch served. All members in the district are invited to this meeting.

Mrs. Curtis Grindle was hostess on Thursday evening to bridge club members, with two tables in play. Honors were won by Mr. Paul West and Mrs. Helen B. Weikart, who was a guest. The hostess served lunch. Mrs. Glenn McNeelan will be the next hostess at her home in Salem.

The P. T. A. will hold a card party in the High school building on Tuesday evening April 15. The public is invited.

Miss Vera Davis of Wittenberg college and Miss Dorothy Ann Reese and Robert Baker of Kent State university are spending the Easter vacation here with their parents.

Mrs. Janet Snedden and Mrs. Celestia Franklin have returned home from a month's visit to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. James Atkinson were honored on Thursday evening by members of their family gathered in their home to celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary. They were presented a gift. Lunch was served.

PHILADELPHIA.—Edward J. Knapp, South Philadelphia High School language teacher, found himself in peculiar circumstances as a result of the draft. The pedagogue became the student—being taught army tactics by a pupil he formerly taught Latin conjugation.

LOS ANGELES.—If ever a wartime blackout darkens the highways of this country, motorists probably will be guided by reflectors, D. C. Rhodes, sign-posting manager of the Automobile Club of Southern California, believes the plan effective.

The census reports 3,324 antique shops in the U. S. with yearly sales totaling $17,743,000.

"Ton Jon Is Great," Says Ravenna School Teacher

Was a Chronic Sufferer of Constipation. Bothered Indigestion and Excessive Gas Would Form In His Stomach Causing Agonizing Misery.

Many say TON JON 1-2-3 are the only medicines that have helped so much even though they had tried different things. One of the latest to give a public statement is Mr. Charles Thomas, a public school teacher living at 402 Jefferson St., Ravenna, Ohio. Mr. Thomas states: "I am so glad that I began taking TON JON No. 1 that I came back to tell you how much good it has done for me. I had been a victim of constipation for a long time and had to be changing from one medicine to another because they wore out on me, but the way TON JON has relieved me seems to be different."

"Since TON JON relieved my constipation I no longer suffer from severe attacks of indigestion and gas does't form in my stomach causing distressful misery. I enjoy much better sleep at night. I think TON JON is a great medicine because it started giving me splendid results after I began taking it."

What TON JON has done for this sufferer it will also do for you, so don't delay getting some now being sold by the TON JON Health Representative at Broadway-Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

by German panzer columns, in the Mt. Olympus sector in eastern Greece.
Athens dispatches said that the Nazis were advancing into the Aegean kingdom on the left after occupying Philorina, the northernmost hinge of the old Allied defense line, and that the Greeks were battling the Germans near Ptolemais.
The Greek high command acknowledged that the Germans were advancing in the center toward two towns 40 miles inside Greece—Kozane and Siatista—south of the Albanian and Yugoslav frontiers and 30 miles south of Philorina.
A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch said that the Germans were moving also toward Klisura, Albanian town near Tepelen, on the Greek western front.
The Greek high command said that Greek forces had withdrawn from the Korizza (Koriza) sector, in southeast Albania, and that "the enemy discovered the withdrawal 24 hours after it began and sought in vain to hinder it by pushing forward motorcyclists."

Premier Mussolini's high command asserted that the Italian 9th army, after taking Corizza, was driving on toward Greece through a gap torn in the western half of the Allied defense line.
Authorized quarters in Berlin declared the German high command, through Luftwaffe observations, had discovered undisputed proof that the British were preparing a hasty retreat from Greece.
"England's behavior is the most shameful crime ever perpetrated on an ally," the Nazis said.
The London radio, however, declared that "strong British reinforcements are now moving up to the front lines in Greece."
On the north African battlefield, thousands of British imperial troops released from the east African front were reported speeding to the defense of Egypt in a race with Axis mechanized columns driving into the ancient land of the Pharaohs toward the Suez canal.
The German-Italian counter-offensive raised the possibility that Egypt, Britain's non-belligerent ally, might soon be drawn into the war.
In a secret session, the Egyptian chamber of deputies ratified an agreement between the government and British authorities. The nature of the agreement was not disclosed.
The vanguard of the Axis expeditionary force in north Africa was reported pressing deeper into Egypt after capturing Salum, just inside the border from Libya.

Why does a Golf Ball bounce?

EVER notice that a golf ball, when you drop it, bounces higher than something hollow, like a tennis ball?

That's partly because of internal pressures, which also have so much to do with Buick's extra FIREBALL power.

Rubber threads inside a golf ball are packed tight, highly compressed. When flattened against a hard object, like a sidewalk, they come back harder, with more push, and so the ball bounces higher.

A similar thing happens inside a Buick FIREBALL straight-eight cylinder.

Fuel compression pressures are higher here than in any other standard-production automobile engine.

So when the spark jumps in the tightly-packed, fuel-fat ball of gas-mixture at the top of the stroke—the Buick piston goes rushing down with more push, more shove, more power than the same amount of fuel gives up elsewhere.

Result: every Buick engine travels farther per gallon this year than the same-size engines did last year, while Compound Carburetion† with Buick FIREBALL design gives as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon.

In fact, if you're buying any car this year, it's pretty important to see and drive a Buick before you're through; it's Number One in smart engineering as well as Number One in solid, rock-bottom, all-round VALUE!

†Optional equipment on the Buick SPECIAL, standard on all other models.

Yankees Off In Front; Other Ball Clubs Take Up Chase Today

Bronx Bombers Get Jump On Field By Shellacking Senators, 3-0, At Capital

Both Leagues Open Fire Today; Indians Take On White Sox; Detroit Meets Browns; Reds-Cards' Tilt Tops Senior Loop

By JUDSON BAILEY

Sixteen major league baseball machines were lined up today for action before more than 200,000 fans—but even on opening day, it was the old familiar story of chasing the New York Yankees.

The fearsome Bombers from the Bronx got a jump on the other teams yesterday by shellacking the Washington Senators, 3-0, before President Roosevelt and 32,000 other capital fans.

The Senators, as well as the spectators, were practically stunned by the ease of the thrust, and Marquis, slender sophomore southpaw, never let them recover. He held the Nationals to three scattered singles and started two of the Yankees' three double plays. In addition, the Yanks punched out another run in the There'll be a hall of fame niche reserved for him if he hits. Joe Gould still is writing letters on stationery labeled James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion of the world.

One-Minute Interview

Fritz Crisler: "Tommy Harmon isn't the best football player I ever coached.... He's the best I ever had—I didn't have to coach him."

Caught In The Fly

Max Baer is headed for the movies again.... Zeke Bonura, blasting the pill and hustling, is the hit of the Minneapolis camp.

Here's bad news—Henry Armstrong is talking about a comeback.... Blue Pair, one of the likeliest of the derby candidates, may be sold for $35,000 in time to go to the post in the colors of his new owner.

Today's Guest Star

R. G. Lynch, Milwaukee Journal: "Now Max Baer and Tony Galento can be relegated to oblivion.... There never was much excuse for Galento's presence in the upper flight of heavyweights.... He who called everybody else a bum was the biggest bum of all.... Baer will linger in this observer's memory as the man who might have licked Louis but licked himself instead."

Bernie Bierman, Minnesota coach, was a flop in the A. B. C.—321 for three games.... Don't look now, but for the second consecutive year the Longwood Bowl Tennis tournament is set to be called off.

Another Jim, Maybe

Could the Jim Gallagher who, as general manager of the Chicago Cubs, is having more trouble than any other fellow signing up his ball players, be the same Jim Gallagher who once wrote in the Chicago American that the Cubs didn't pay their players enough?

Reverse English

The Fort Worth Telegram sort of reverses the order of things.... It says: "Suggestions: Go to the ball game Sunday."

Ohioan Nears Lead

ST. PAUL, April 15.—The 2,013 all-events total scored by Harold Kelly of South Bend, Ind., on March 29 will be in jeopardy in the American Bowling Congress tourney today. Kelly averaged 233.6 for nine games in the three events. John Marshall, Wooster, O., tossed in a 715 series in the five-man event last night and needs a 1,293 total in the doubles and singles to pass Kelly in the 9-game division. In averaging 238.1, Marshall had games of 232, 238 and 245 with the Collier printers, who hit only 2,702.

six on two singles and a long fly.

The Senators were up against marvelous pitching, but they didn't show any signs they would be a hitting team anytime this year.

And the very fact that the opposition was so willed may keep other American league clubs from getting discouraged immediately.

However, the Yanks were due to open their home season today against the Philadelphia Athletics and, after two other games against the same foe at New York, return to Washington for a series with the Senators.

Thus, New York has an opportunity to build up momentum against the two teams that figure to be the league's weakest this season.

The Detroit Tigers, on the other hand, had to face the St. Louis Browns, "spillers" of better teams all last season, and the Cleveland Indians ran into the always-dangerous Chicago White Sox in their opening today. Friday, the Indians and the Tigers will tangle and Detroit.

Fortunately, championships are not decided in the first month, and before the end of next September all of the clubs will have faced the strong and the weak alike.

Reds, Cards Clash

This same reasoning may be some solace to the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds, western division king pins of the National league, who clashed today at Cincinnati, while the Brooklyn Dodgers, their arch rivals in the east, took on the hither-lacking New York Giants.

From a fans' viewpoint, however, the show at Cincinnati shaped up as the day's most interesting and important. Crosley field was sold out of reserved seats for the opener long ago as a result of the Cincinnati custom of giving the tickets as Christmas gifts.

The crowd would be 35,000, whether the attraction was good or not, but the world champions had to come up against one of the two National league teams considered capable of bumping them out of their third straight pennant.

The three-game series opening today may give everybody a better slant on the Redbird threat.

Until proved otherwise, the Reds have to be regarded the likely winner next fall because they have unequalled pitching and defense and have bolstered their batting strength through the trade with Chicago for outfielder Jim Gleason.

Other clubs have improved, too, but it will take a lot of reconstruction to overcome the 12 game lead with which Cincinnati finished last year.

The other openers included Pittsburgh at Chicago and Boston at Philadelphia in the National, and Washington at Boston in the American.

Eagles Roll Into ABC Doubles Cash

Members of the Eagles' bowling team, back today from the A. B. C. at St. Paul, are confident that at least a couple members of the squad will get into the money when the dividends are passed around at the end of the firing.

Bill Shepard and Mike Hutter rolled up a 1221 in the doubles competition to set the pace for the local contingent, Hutter tossing a 233 in his third game for a 633 total.

INDIANS ARE SET TO GO; SQUAD'S IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

Improved Team Morale Is Expected To Aid In Pennant Drive

CLEVELAND, April 15.—The rejuvenated and pennant-hungry Indians, sporting a great infield, a crack pitching staff, and a clutch hitting team, are expected to break all records for Cleveland baseball openers.

The weather man, uncooperative with an earlier forecast of "cooler and rain," helped stir local enthusiasm to mid-season pitch as he swung over to "continued warm and occasional showers."

C. C. Slapnicka, the club's conservative, bespectacled vice president, predicted attendance of 35,000 to 40,000. The present record of 31,606 was set in the 1938 inaugural.

Feller and Hensley, back at the Cleveland helm after a seven-year exile, officially announced Bob Feller and Rollie Hensley as his starting battery. Cigar-smoking Jimmy Dykes, who brought his Chicagoans into town this morning, nominated Bill Dietrich and Mike Tresh.

Feller pitched a no-hitter in the opener against Chicago last year, going on to win 27 and lose 11. Dietrich's record was 10 and 6.

Peckinpaugh, as cagey as Oscar Vitt was voluble, gave his usual mild answers to prediction queries.

"We are starting the season with the idea of winning the pennant," the one-time shortstop said. "I can't make any predictions because there are seven other teams to consider. I am convinced we will be up there all the way."

Squad is Ready

"The squad is in excellent shape and we are ready."

The experts who pick the Redskins to win the flag stress the upswing in club morale with the coming of Peckinpaugh. They believe the flame of rebellion that scorched Vitt until the club fired him has been extinguished completely under the new manager's patient handling of the players.

Only one new player was listed in the Cleveland starting lineup. Gerry Walker, a daring base runner and a timely hitter, has taken over the left field post held last season by blazin' Ben Chapman.

The biggest question mark as the Tribe drives for its first pennant in 21 years is the club's hitting around three players—Hal Trosky, Ken Keltner, and Jeff Heath. If they regain their slugging peak, the Indians look good enough to win.

Fremont Signs Geygan

FREMONT, O., April 15.—James (Chappie) Geygan, who piloted Fremont to its only pennant in 1939, is at the helm of the Ohio state baseball league team again.

Geygan, who quit as manager of the Grand Rapids team of the Michigan state league two months ago, signed yesterday. He formerly managed Sandusky and Marion teams in the Ohio state league.

Trojans Down Bears

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—Dean Cromwell rolled out the old Trojan horse, unloosed a bunch of promising sophomores against a surprised California track team, and walked off with a 74-57 victory.

"A rather good performance," he admitted.

The Trojans walloped California's best team in eight years and gave Cromwell his 17th consecutive duel victory over the Bears.

BOWLING RESULTS

Charles Huffer of the Colonial Finance stole the show in the Quaker City league last night as he cracked out games of 235, 210 and 247 on the Grate alleys, for a top-notch 692 series, which is some fancy bowling in any league.

Two pocket splits in the ninth and tenth frames of his second game kept Huffer from turning in a 700 series.

Walt Hiltbrand also aided the Finance to chalk up a 932 total in its second game with a 231 score. These totals gave the Finance two of three games over C. B. Hunt.

The first-place Altohouse Motors gained another game on the second-place Colonial when they trounced Coy Buicks three straight. The Motors hit 912 in their third game to finish up with a 2640 total. England of Coy's turned in a 236 in his second try and Willis had a 205 in the second for Altohouse.

Capel's Realtors remained six games behind the leader as they swept three tilts from Floding & Reynard.

The Golden Eagles were handed three games on a forfeit by the Masons while the Salem Motor took two from the Bachelors. Freed of the Golden Eagles racked up a 216 in his second game.

The American league wound up its season last night at the Masonic alleys, with the exception of the two leaders, Fernengel and Fitzpatrick's Service.

The scheduled tilt between the two leaders was postponed last night. Fernengel's also have a postponed match to make up with the Electric Furnace, if necessary.

As they stand now, Fernengel's are in first with 58 wins and 20 losses, and Fitzpatrick's in second with 59 wins and 22 setbacks.

The American Laundry finished up in third place as it was awarded three games on a forfeit by the Lease Drugs.

Demings whipped the Ohio Edison three straight to wind up in fourth.

The Masons lost three to the Electric Furnace but remain, at present, in fifth position.

Wernett's 211 in the second game helped the Furnace to turn in a 909 total. Heston had a 216 in the first.

Dohbar paced the Laundry with a 200 total in his second try.

REDS, CARDS OUT TO CINCH PENNANT; HOT SERIES SEEN

Derringer and Warneke Will Take Mound In Opening Battle

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, April 15.—Despite war, thunderstorm, and election, to steal the phrase of the late Senator Simeon D. Pess in avowing he'd get his sleep, there's a ball game here today, between the world champion Cincinnati Reds and the vitaminized St. Louis Cardinals.

The war is across a couple of oceans, thunderstorms (scattered) are in the weather bureau's tentative thought for the day, and the election will take 154 ballots—one for each game—to settle.

Seek Third Pennant

Just the same, as soon as Gov. John W. Bricker lobs out the ball at 2:30 this afternoon, the Reds start out for one of the National league's rarest prizes — a third straight pennant. Paul Derringer, senior member of one of the greatest two-man pitching acts in all time, and Lon Warneke, are the day's hurlers.
